For nearly three decades, Susan G. Komen Greater Pennsylvania has worked to meet the breast health needs in the affiliate's service area of western, central, and northeastern Pennsylvania. Seventy-five percent of all funds raised stay in the community supporting breast cancer initiatives, while the remaining 25% of all funds raised support national research. Today, and every day, as Komen Greater PA works to meet the changing needs of the community we serve, our promise remains the same: save lives by meeting the most critical needs in our communities and investing in breakthrough research to prevent and cure breast cancer.
